

6-Year Cycle: Programs

The six-year program review cycle requires program assessments to be done every other year (three times) during the six-year cycle. Program Learning Outcome (PLO) assessments are completed twice during the cycle. Course assessments completed every year throughout the cycle and each course is also assessed twice in the six-year cycle. The cycle supports "mature assessment"; defined as each course and each PLO being assessed twice within a six-year period. All leading to and contributing to the 6-year program review. The cycle outlines minimum requirements and divisions and/or departments may choose to more assessments wanted/needed.
